Item from the Daily Log - 5 November 1952

25X1A

██████████ related to me his discussions with Justice on the status of TASS which must be established in order to give OO a ruling on whether TASS transcripts may be disseminated throughout the Government without possible copyright liability. The Department of Justice was most helpful and was able to supply us with full information, but the point of law has never been ruled on as to whether the representative of such an agency is domiciled within the meaning of the Copyright Act. It appears, however, that this information is sufficient for us to provide a practical guide to OO.
